

I want to travel the world in a rainbow hot air balloon, on the back of a dragon, and on a pirate ship.

I will find the Northern star and sail towards the second star to the right of it and go straight on 'til morning.

I will go to Pixie Hollow and paint the flowers with the garden fairies, make the morning dew with water fairies, and make rainbows with light fairies.

I will go on adventures with Peter Pan in Neverland and never grow up.

I will never change.

I will fall through the rabbit hole- yes, the same one Alice did- and meet the Mad Hatter, Cheshire cat, and White Rabbit.

I will meet my knight in shining armor.

He will battle a dragon, an evil step mother, witches, trolls, pirates, and jealous queens only to find me with my glass slipper.

I want frolic in a field of flowers with the King of the Forest

I will swim with the mermaids and fly with the fairies.

I will be hunted down by all the worlds' villains for my charm, beauty, smarts, bravery, and honesty.

I will live in a giant, beautiful castle on the edge of a lovely village.

I will go from a small, little girl to a great queen.

*W*ith my one wild and precious life,

I will never grow up.

Although I may not look it, at heart I will always be a little girl, with my princess dress and tiara.

I don't want to plan out my life.

I'd rather live in a fairy tale,

Where the only people to die are the villains, and everyone has a happy ending.

If I were to plan my life it would be a disappointment.

I live in my imagination, where nothing is realistic.

The only thing I want to know in life is that at least every 5-10 years I can go to Disney World and can watch all the Disney movies without being judged.

Once upon a time I want to be a grown up so I could make all the rules,

But now I've thought twice.

My happy ever after would be to stay forever young.

My happy ever after would be to have a never ending wild and precious life.
