Welcome to Beginning Band!

It is extremely important that you know what is expected of parents and students.

Please take the time to carefully read the beginning band handbook.

What is a beginning band?

Beginning band is made up of first-year players. This means that these students have not played a band instrument before. They spend the first couple weeks of beginning band learning the fundamentals of music (reading notes, counting and vocabulary) and after they have a firm foundation, they will begin playing their instruments.

Does beginning band take up a lot of time outside of school?

Absolutely not! The only time we need to meet afterschool is to practice as a full band prior to our concerts. These rehearsals are required and are for a grade. You will be given plenty of time to prepare your schedule for these rehearsals.

But can't you just rehearse during the school day? Why after school?

Beginning band classes are broken up into instrument families. This means that the whole band does not get to practice together during the school day. For a concert to be successful, the students need to hear what they sound like as a full band (all instruments together) and this can only take place during after school rehearsals. We have no more than four after school rehearsals during the year to prepare for our performances.

How many performances does the beginning band participate in?

The beginning band has two or three concerts throughout the year, and students perform in a solo/ensemble contest in the spring. All performances are a major grade and are mandatory. You will be given plenty of time to prepare your schedule for these events.

What is expected from my student in beginning band?

Your student will be learning how to play their instrument and read music. This requires DAILY practice at home. Eligibility applies to band just like any other extra-curricular activity. Your child must remain eligible by passing ALL their classes.

Instruments sometimes need maintenance or new supplies. Students are expected to have enough supplies to keep their instrument in working condition. Should the instrument need to go to the repair shop, a note must be sent with the student to excuse their participation.

POLICY #1: Be in the right PLACE at the right TIME with the right MATERIALS and with the right ATTITUDE

Attendance Policy

Unlike most other classes, it is NOT possible to make-up most of the activities that the band participates in throughout the year. Because of this, all rehearsals and performances are MANDATORY. If you absolutely must miss an activity due to an unavoidable conflict, a note must be received at least a full day prior to the absence. Discretion will be left to the band director to approve absence. If a family emergency occurs, a written note explaining the situation will be needed as soon as possible. We must have record of this absence. This note is due as soon as possible. Please submit your notes in a timely fashion. Please schedule doctor, dentist, orthodontist, or other appointments around band activities and class time as these types of absences will not be excused.

The majority of students who have missed events have missed due to lack of planning or lack of communication. Most absences can be avoided by planning ahead.

Some basic solutions to scheduling issues:

- Make sure you have an up-to-date calendar at all times
 - Car pool with some fellow band members
 - Always plan ahead! Don't procrastinate!
 - Check the band website and your email often!

 - A student may be removed from band at the discretion of the band director if necessary at any time with proper documentation

- II. A student can regain eligibility on the Friday following the three week grading period if the student is passing EVERY class and receives no remark of "currently failing" on his/her three week progress report

PASS YOUR CLASSES SO YOU CAN HAVE FUN WITH THE BAND!

Parents, we ask that you continue to supervise your child and communicate with their teachers if any questions should arise. Students need to understand that their grades have a direct influence on other students as well as themselves.

School Instrument Use and Repair Policy

School instruments are instruments owned by Granbury ISD. (This policy does not apply to those who are renting an instrument from the music store) Students using these instruments are required to pay a yearly $100.00 maintenance fee. This fee is due by the end of the first semester. Payment plans available.

Students are expected to take care of their instruments properly. Parents are responsible for any repairs above $100.00. Parents renting instruments through a music company are responsible for making payments each month

Private lessons

Why should my child take private lessons?

Private lessons offer students the opportunity to receive individualized instruction from a professional musician on their instrument. Lessons can be an incredible benefit to all band students. The individual attention given to your student improves the performance level playing and their enjoyment of their instrument. The key to success with private lessons is to start early and continue throughout the school year.

Fundraising

The GMS band does many things that are beyond the ability of the school district's financial reach. Because of this, students in the band program participate in fundraisers.

- Two fundraisers per year
- Any monies submitted to the GMS band program are non-refundable regardless of the student's ability to participate in activities
- These fundraisers benefit the activity fund
- This fund pays for clinicians, food, specials events, trips, and socials
- All students benefit from the activity fund
- All students are expected to participate or to "buy-out" their portion

Fundraising is a vital part of the success of our band program. Without it, we are unable to do the things that set the band apart from a regular class. If everyone does their part in meeting the goals set for each fundraiser, the band will continue to operate efficiently and meet established expectations.

Remind Text Blasts

In order for us to utilize all methods of communication, we use a program called “Remind” to send text blasts to parents and students. This program is safe and effective. Teachers and parents/students are able to exchange texts in a secure and safe manner. This is simply another way for us to share information. Your phone number will not be shared or displayed in any way. Message/data fees do apply

Text Code: @gmsbband21

Social Media/Director Communication

In order to maintain high ethical standards, the directors of the Granbury Pirate Band will not approve any “Friend Requests” from students or parents on any social media website (Facebook, Twitter, etc.).

We ask that students and parents only use the district email addresses and telephone number on the cover of this handbook for contacting the directors. Both directors receive email on our cell phones and we will answer your emails as soon as possible.

If a student somehow obtains a director’s personal cell phone number and texts or calls that director, we are required to report that contact to the office.

Texts through the remind text app are allowed and secure for all parties.

How You Can Help Your Musician Succeed

It has been proven time and time again that music students are the most successful when their family takes a personal interest in their music practice at home. There is nothing that will assure your child's success in the study of music or the speed of his/her progress more than your sincere interest in his/her music participation. Far more progress is made when practicing happens every day. The progress made with 150 minutes of practice on Saturday is not the same as 35 minutes each day of the week. We are trying to build muscles and reinforce the learning that is happening.

Learning to play a band instrument is like running a marathon – don't try to train all at once.

Here are some things you as a parent can do that will help your student:

- Set aside a regular time and a suitable place for your child to practice
 - This place should be free of distractions and have a solid chair and music stand
 - Encourage your child to adopt a schedule of 30-45 minutes a day, six to seven days per week
 - Listen to your child and notice improvements
 - Remind your child to always use their metronome
 - This will greatly enhance his/her sense of pulse
 - Make sure your child always uses a music stand to avoid developing bad habits
 - Select a suitable place to store your child's instrument in the home and show that you also think it is important
 - Make sure that your child is on time to rehearsals and lessons from the first day
 - See the child's teacher at regular intervals to keep yourself informed about successes and struggles
 - Attend all concerts! It really encourages the kids!
 - Help your child understand that the more they practice now, the more fun and enjoyment they will have later
